

PENTAGON 2000SQL ERP EXTENDED PROFILE

OVERVIEW

Pentagon 2000SQL is an ERP for the defense and aerospace industries. It is suitable for organizations looking for a single, feature-rich, user-friendly solution to support the entire breadth of their business activities. It fits companies with complex and dynamic inventories as well as those requiring high levels of quality assurance.

Inventory and materials management are at the core of the Pentagon 2000 design. The system offers an unlimited number of parts, built-in lifetime part revision control, full lifetime traceability, and the instant retrieval of inventory location.

The QA module runs on a reliable Microsoft SQL database and comes with an extensive report library plus powerful, rule-based functionality.

Organizations can deploy Pentagon 2000 on-premise or host it in the cloud. A suite of Apple iOS mobile applications makes the software available outside the office, and shop floor staff can use Apple devices to scan barcodes.
